Today's Program

Antiques in Your Attic
Ohio Valley Antique Mall

Pastor Tom Beckstrom and four of his colleagues are here to give us some insight into the world of antiques and collectibles. Like with the popular "Road Show", each expert will review pieces brought by our members and share their opinions. The main categories to be covered are glass, jewelry, pottery and porcelain, but our visiting experts are more than willing to share what they know about any interesting item brought in.

Pastor Tom has been an antiques collector for over 50 years! As a young child he was fascinated by some relics found at his grandparents house: a rug beater, a butter churn, a victrola. He would pick "treasures" at second hand stores, only to have his parents banish these finds to the basement. By the time Tom entered college, he found an elderly antique dealer who would teach him weekly about what to look for. How to "date" a vintage piece. When he and Barb married, they furnished their home with antiques, mostly out of necessity. They would buy junk, and refinish antiques! Tom is very glad that after 32 years of marriage, Barb likes keeping the "old" around the house. The Beckstroms have been antique dealers at the Ohio Valley Antiques Mall since it opened in January. "It's a good way for us to clean out our basement and still work our collection!"

Coming Up: January, Terri Chatfield of the OSU Extension office, Butler County, will be here to talk to us about a sun-safe lifestyle. Come early or stay a little later to have your skin screened in the Derma Scan. It is never too late to start taking better care of our selves!

February, join us for fun and great food prepared by our members. Special activities are planned to help us get to know each other just a bit better. Make new friends and learn something new about the "old" ones!
